Water Use Is Down Harp Thanks Public

Despite the hot sticky weather of the past weekend, Livingston's use of water from the municipal system was down by a significant degree. Apparently the townsfolk have responded to the plea issued last week by Manager Harp and Water Superintendent Edward L. Sayre not to sprinkle lawns indiscriminately.

Sayre reported that this past Sunday Livingston had a water consumption of 4,578,000 gallons, and it was a warm, humid day. In comparison, water use on the previous Sunday, July 15, had totalled 5,486,000 gallons. This represents a savings of over 16 per cent in water consumption.

Harp, commenting on this, stated: "The decrease clearly indicates cooperation from our residents and water customers. We wish to express our sincere thanks for the cooperation, and urge continued cooperation in our water conservation efforts."

Michael McBride, 16, New Jersey's foil fencing champion, receives a Kiwanis grant-in-aid to travel to Israel to compete in the Andre Spitzer Tournament. Kiwanis Club president Township Councilman Jack Collins makes the presentation. At right is Mike's father, Robert T. McBride. Andre Spitzer was one of the Israelis murdered in the 1976 Munich Olympics massacre.

Mike McBride Heads For Israel

Mike McBride of 50 Lexington Drive, a member of the Salle Geraci Fencing Club of Livingston and Madison, has been invited to be a member of a squad of fencers to represent the United States at the Andre Spitzer International Tournament to be held at Sadat Yom Sports Center in Caesaria, Israel. The tournament is attended by epee and foil fencers, ages 11 through 18, from throughout the world.

The tournament is named and held in honor of Andre Spitzer, an Israeli coach slain at the Olympic games in Munich. McBride will arrive in Israel on July 22 and return August 2 during which time he will be a guest of the Israeli government.

McBride, who started his career in fencing at age eight under the guidance of A. John Geraci, fencing master of Livingston, first became involved through the LSDP program and later trained at Salle Geraci of Livingston and Madison.

His achievements include: 1977-78 — two time New Jersey under 14 Boys Foil Champion; 1979 — New Jersey under 16 Foil Champion; New Jersey under 16 Epee Second Place; National under 16 Epee Second Place and National under 16 Third Place.

McBride has been invited by the U.S. Olympic Committee to attend a summer camp at Squaw Valley Olympic Training Center in Olympic Valley California near Lake Tahoe from August 13 through August 23. He will attend this camp along with 45 U.S. Fencers, girls and boys in the Under 20, Under 19 and Under 16 categories. During his stay at Squaw Valley he will be the guest of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

The young fencer's accomplishments will give him the opportunity to travel all over the world in the next few years. Since there are virtually no funds available from the Amateur Fencers League of America or the Olympic Committee, McBride is looking for more sponsors, such as the Kiwanis Club, to help him meet his expenses.

THE DAPPER DANS OF HARMONY will sing at the final concert of Music Under the Stars. The concert will be held Tuesday, July 31, at 8:30 p.m. at Livingston High School.

Barber Shoppers Gather Tuesday To Serenade Livingstonites

The Dapper Dans of Harmony, Livingston's internationally famous chapter of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. (Barbershoppers), will be on hand for the final concert of the Music Under the Stars programs. The concert will be held in the auditorium of the Livingston High School on Tuesday evening, July 31, at 8:30 p.m. Also on the program will be the Sunrise Chapter of the Sweet Adelines, Inc., the feminine counterpart of the Barbershoppers.

The Dapper Dans chorus has a long record of success in barbershop singing around the United States and internationally. Led by Dave Mittelstadt, and with Joe Fiori as assistant director, the Dapper Dans have been named district champions seven times, and have had the honor of being international Community Development Director John Alati (center) and County Executive Peter Shapiro (right) congratulate Councilman Dominic Crincoli on Livingston's share of the $3.5 million Community Development Grant the county will get this year. Livingston will receive $100,000 to be used to improve the channel of Canoe Brook in the Wardell Road area where flooding is a problem. Another $100,000 of the HUD money may be spent in Livingston if the funds allocated to purchase land for a new outreach center for the handicapped are used to by the former Synagogue of the Suburban Torah Center building on North Livingston Avenue as proposed.

HUD: $100,000 For Flood Control; $100,000 For Handicapped Center

Livingston will receive $100,000 for flood control in the vicinity of Wardell Road, and another $100,000 has been allocated to help finance the purchase of property of a West Essex extension of the Essex County Sheltered Workshop. The funds are coming from the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The two projects are part of a $3.562 million grant that has been made this year by HUD to the Essex County Division of Community Development. Announcement of the grant, which is for the entire amount requested, was made this week by County Executive Peter Shapiro.

The overall program had been drawn up by John Alati, head of the Essex County Division of Community Development. It is the largest such program in the history of the county.

"I'm extremely pleased that HUD agrees with the Essex County Division of Community Development that the projects that were developed by the citizens and leaders of Livingston are worthy of federal funding," Shapiro said. "This money will be put to excellent use for the benefit of the people of Livingston."

This year's Community Development program incorporates a new concept, known as the Neighborhood Strategy Area, that targets the funds to the neighborhoods most in need and where they can be most effectively utilized.

Livingston's Community Development funds total $100,000. The funds are allocated to the Wardell Road neighborhood strategy area for Canoe Brook channel improvements.

Area Residents Protest Conditions Caused By Landmark Tavern Patrons

Long standing problems caused by patrons of the Landmark Cocktail Lounge broke into the open Monday evening as a delegation of residents of Claremont Avenue appeared before the Township Council. The immediate cause of the discussions was the parking situation on Claremont, but noise, debris, and several incidents were cited as the evening progressed.

Irwin Meister of 17 Claremont Avenue was the original speaker of the group, but many others added their complaints to his as the evening progressed. Meister stated that 23 years ago, shortly after he moved to Livingston, he and his neighbors had successfully opposed a plan to expand the Landmark, which had recently changed ownership. The tavern itself, originally Fred Schubert's Tavern, had been located at the same site in the same building since the end of prohibition in 1933.

The residents of the area then protested, and still oppose, he said, anything that would extend the operations of the tavern. However, the problem of parking has become intolerable. Autos are now parked more than 675 feet from the tavern along Claremont Avenue. In an effort to solve this, the township recently put emergency no parking signs along Claremont for a distance of 300 feet from Mt. Pleasant Avenue, on both sides. The only result, Meister and many others stated, was that the cars parked even farther down Claremont, and were also starting to park on Wildwood Avenue.

Meister stated that this created a safety hazard. It was doubtful if fire engines could get (Continued on Page 2)

Board Has Many Questions About Conversion of First Aid Building

Plans for conversion of the First Aid Squad building into commercial offices were presented to the Zoning Board of Adjustment on Thursday evening, July 19. With many questions left to be answered at the close of this week's session, the matter was placed on the calendar for the August 16 meeting.

Complications in voting requirements among the Board members may postpone further hearings on the application until the September meeting. Only six members of the Board were present on Thursday, and one of them, Rosalyn Bendit, disqualified herself from hearing the case. Since the application involves a use variance for which five affirmative votes are required, all five of the remaining members hearing the case must vote affirmatively to secure approval of the plans. Two of these members will not be present at the August meeting, having previously announced vacation plans. While it is possible for absent members to vote if they have read the transcript of the meeting, it is not yet known whether those who were absent Thursday would agree to such a procedure.

Erika Huber Wins Gold, Bronze Medals In National AAU Diving

Erika Huber, Livingston's youthful diving queen, came home with the big time bacon this week. Erika took first place in the high board diving competition in the U.S. Age Group Nationals competitions for 12 year olds and under. In addition, she came in fourth in the low board competition in the meet held at Woodlands, Texas under the sponsorship of the National AAU.

Erika, aged 12, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huber of 20 Highland Drive. She is a product of the swimming program of the West Essex YMCA where she has been coached by Neil Caruso. In the meet she was in competition with the 20 top divers in her age group from all over the country in each of the two events.

Demonstrating consistently fine diving, she put on a uniformly good performance in all the eight individual dives in each category. She scored a 269 to come in first in the high board competition, in which she finished up with a clean-cut two and a half. In low board she had a 255.10 score to win the fourth place bronze medal.

As reported earlier, Erika qualified for this meet by taking a second on the high board and a third on the low board in the Eastern Regional meet held in Delaware, Ohio. She had gone to the regionals after winning gold medals in both events in the New Jersey Junior Olympics. She also won first in the recent Canadian-New Jersey meet held in Mountaintide.

The victory in the nationals will close out her competition for the summer. She will not attempt to go to the international competitions. In the fall she will resume competition in the YMCA meets, working under Caruso again.

Fire In Garage

Morris Ostrowsky of 13 Hawthorne Drive reported to police that someone had set fire to a garbage can in his garage on Monday, July 16. The prankster also had sprinkled a white powder all around the area and written obscene words on the ground. Ostrowsky said that this was the third time such an incident had occurred on his property.

Intruder Damages Auto Wash Office

An unknown intruder removed a piece of plywood from the ceiling of Livingston Auto Wash, 111 East Mt. Pleasant Avenue, sometime late Sunday night, July 16, entered the office and ransacked it causing extensive damage.

Since the area is protected by an alarm system, police surmised that the burglar must have had a knowledge of the premises. The owner was unable to determine exactly how much money the intruder got away with.

Landmark Tavern

such as broken windshields. The area is littered nightly with the remains of six packs, etc. there is also an inordinate amount of noise. Recently there was a serious incident involving a stabbing. He felt that the volume of cars probably indicated that the tavern itself was overloaded with more patrons than could safely be accommodated. He urged that this be frequently checked by proper municipal authorities.

Manager Harp and Councilman Geffner both stated that the emergency signs had been put up as an experiment to see if it would help solve the situation. If successful, the township would have applied to the state for permission to erect permanent signs.

Richard Gore of 7 Claremont stated that he had suggested a one hour parking limit for the area from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. to prevent all evening parking on the street by tavern patrons. He conceded that the tavern could not be closed, and he wanted to be fair to the tavern owner, and also to the residents of the area. He suggested that the no parking rule be extended all the way down Claremont and Wildwood.

It was pointed out that this would merely shift the load across Mt. Pleasant Avenue, and it would probably have to result in no parking rules on the entire area.

Anthony Marinello of 22 Claremont stated that he was a new resident. In his college days he had known the Landmark as a quiet neighborhood tavern. This seems to have changed. He felt that the owners of the Landmark had no desire to hurt the neighborhood, but he felt that they had a duty to provide parking, a safe establishment, and reasonable efforts to keep their patrons from endangering the safety and property of the area. The violence of two weeks ago should result in some action by Livingston's government.

Carol E. Weill of 5 Claremont said he, too, had been at the meeting 23 years ago, and had lived through the entire time as an immediate neighbor. He agreed with Gore's suggestion of limited time parking, but thought it should start at 8 p.m. He stated that in recent times the problem had grown greater, with a big crowd every night that was noisy. One is afraid to walk outdoors in the evening. Despite the signs, on Sunday night between 11 and 12 the street was parked solid. There are all sorts of problems on the street, with a great deal of litter. Even the fall leaf collection is hampered, as the leaves are ground down into a mush that cannot be vacuumed up. Weill also advocated that the size of the crowd inside the tavern be checked to see if it were beyond safe limits.

Mrs. Joyce Gore stated that the problem really started with the reduction of legal drinking age. The crowd now seems more boisterous, and there are nuisances such as frisbee games in the street at 2 a.m. Even before the signs were put up, parking often extended beyond Wildwood.

Councilman Geffner agreed that the change in the legal drinking age has been a major cause of the increased trouble. Weill agreed that it definitely was a different crowd which now patronized the tavern in the evening.

Mayor Grady suggested that perhaps a solution would be for the tavern to raise its prices. Manager Harp agreed with the complainers that the situation was very bad, but confessed that he had not been able to find a solution yet.

Michael Finn of 9 Claremont stated that it had been proven at this meeting that the job could not be done half way. He felt the answer would be to restrict or prohibit parking on all the streets in the area.

The matter was taken under advisement.

Pass Ban On Home Gas Tanks

With no discussion from the floor or the table, the Township Council on Monday evening passed on final reading an ordinance which bans the home storage of gasoline and other combustible fuels. Under terms of the ordinance, no more than five gallons of such material can be stored at any place in a residential zone.

Exceptions to this ban are approved tanks, either above ground or below, for home heating units. The regular tanks installed for such oil burners are still permitted. Also excepted are a few tanks for which special permission has already been given, primarily involving fuel for scavenger services.

When the ordinance was originally proposed, Manager Harp said that there had not yet been any applications for large residential gasoline tanks, but it was felt wise to ban such storage before applications were filed.

Burn victims must be cleaned every day in this hydrotherapy tank. The tank is part of the treatment room where patients' burns are cleaned and dressed.

Burn Unit Offers Special Care To Critically Injured Patients

In April of 1977, Saint Barnabas Medical Center opened the first burn unit in the state of New Jersey. Since that time, the burn unit has treated 274 patients, most of them from the northern New Jersey area.

The unit has 12 bed capacity but utilizes only 10 beds at this time. There are four private rooms and four semi-private rooms in addition to the treatment rooms. Eric Hansen, administrative assistant for the burn unit explained the admissions procedure for burn victims.

When a burn victim is brought into the unit, he is taken to the admissions unit where the burns are analyzed by the staff to determine the numerical level of the burns. The level of burns is determined by the amount of nursing care needed for the patient.

After this is done, the patient is moved to the hydrotherapy room where he is weighed and his burns are cleaned and dressed. The procedure is painful, but is necessary to prevent the burns from becoming infected. The burns are cleaned by placing the patient in a hydrotherapy tank. The tank is filled with 425 gallons of water and one gallon bleach which removes the burned skin so the burn can be dressed. When dressed, the burn is totally protected from outside air, thus reducing the chance of infection. This procedure is repeated every day that the patient is in the burn unit.

Nurses then move the patient to his room where he is put on pain medications. The patient decides when he needs medication and is never given so much medication that he is rendered unconscious.

There are five general surgeons and nine plastic surgeons in the unit, headed by Dr. Frederick W. Fuller. The staff consists of 40 registered nurses and 12 burn technicians as well as physical therapists, occupational therapists, dietitians and other hospital staff. In addition, physicians and staff from the pediatric, renal, pulmonary, cardiac and psychiatric units of the hospital are available if needed for patient care. Many former burn patients often return to talk and to help with current burn patients.

The families of burn victims are encouraged to visit often and to become involved in the healing process. According to Karen Engstrom, head nurse, families are essential in helping the patient psychologically and to give them support during the often agonizing treatment burn victims must go through. Members of the hospital psychiatric and social services departments help the family in coping with this situation.

These departments also hold weekly rap sessions with the burn unit staff. There, the staff is given a chance to let out the anxieties that are created when working "with critically ill patients."

Burn patients must be constantly pushed and can be in a great deal of pain. "Therapy makes sure that a patient will be able to do things. A therapist is with them from day one and keeps them constantly moving," said Hansen. Without continual therapy, a patient would lose the ability to use the burned limb.

The average length of stay for a patient in the burn unit is 22 days and the average cost per day is $674. When the patient is less critical, he is moved to the surgical, plastic surgery or pediatric units of the hospital where he undergoes further surgery to repair burns.

The burn unit at Saint Barnabas offers personnel and equipment exclusively for burn victims. It is one of the many special services that Saint Barnabas offers to the residents of the community.

REALITIES OF REAL ESTATE

Doris V. Sussman, Realtor

The hot, humid days of summer are here. These simple tips on air conditioning can save energy and save you money.

If you purchase a new air conditioner, be sure to consider its EER, or Energy Efficiency Ratio. High-efficiency air conditioners have an EER of 7.5 or higher (up to 12). A unit that has a high EER takes less electricity to do its job, so you save money in operating costs. The initial price of a high-efficiency air conditioner may be higher, but it will be more than offset by savings on your utility bills. Manufacturers place EER labels on their air conditioners. If you don't see one, be sure to ask your dealer.

Since an air conditioner is responsive to temperature only a unit that's too large would quickly cool your room and then shut off, leaving the humidity level high. You'd probably feel "clammy." On the other hand, a unit that's too small probably wouldn't be capable of cooling your room. Either way, the wrong cooling capacity means your air conditioner would be inefficient and expensive to operate. Your dealer can recommend the proper cooling capacity for your needs. Be prepared to answer questions about room size, use of the room, number of doors and windows, amount of insulation and exposure to the sun.

The proper air conditioner takes only a short time to cool a room. Don't turn it on until you really need it. Remember, by using energy wisely, you can save money.

The 18 Year Drinking Age

Currently our legislature is in the middle of a debate on whether or not to raise the legal age for the consumption of alcoholic beverages. In addition, there is a lot of talk about how to do it, and how far one should go.

Opponents of trick things (different initial driving licenses with pictures, or raising the legal age to the July 1 after a young person reaches the age of 18, so that that person will be out of high school; etc.) and it appears that impossible that the legislature would agree to go back to the old minimum age of 21.

We were opposed to the reduction in the drinking age when it was first proposed. We still feel it was a sad mistake, and we hope that the legislature has the guts to recognize this and make some much needed changes. We will even be heretical enough to urge that the minimum legal age for drinking be returned to 21!

The troubles encountered by the neighbors of the Landmark Cocktail Lounge, that were expounded at length at the Township Council meeting this past Monday make a case in point. It used to be that the Landmark was a quiet neighborhood tavern. The place was orderly, and for years it was very seldom that even a minor incident occurred at the place.

Apparently, since the advent of the 18 year old drinking age the clientele of the Landmark has changed drastically. It's become the place where the young crowd goes. Unfortunately, where the older crowd seemed to have some regard for the neighborhood, the more youthful drinkers leave the premises in a far more boisterous condition, and sometimes in quite a pugnacious condition. This has resulted in outdoor noise, some serious incidents, and a great deal of litter.

Of course, one of the big complaints now being registered has to do with the drinking situation, and this has nothing at all to do with the 18 year olds. What has happened is that the crowd coming to the tavern seems to exceed the available parking area provided on the tavern grounds. This is a toughie, and we cannot give a pat answer.

As was noted, 23 years ago the former proprietors of the Landmark applied to build an entirely new building, to the rear of their tract, with the parking in front. We believe that there would have been a slight increase in the number of parking stalls under the revised plan, but in any event it would not have been too great. The plan was opposed by the neighbors and was defeated.

The tavern, of course, has been operating as a non-conforming use, and can continue to do so. Should they attempt to get increased parking area, and we don't know where it would be, they would have to get a variance, and probably would be embroiled in another battle.

The complete ban on street parking, or a time limitation which was strictly enforced, would have to extend for a considerable distance in all directions. Otherwise, the current problem on Claremont would just be shifted to another place.

We confess we have no good answer for this dilemma. Perhaps Mayor Grady's suggestion that the tavern raise its prices to cut down the crowd would work, but we doubt it.

We would urge the tavern personnel to do its utmost to curb the exuberance of its clientele — perhaps limiting the drinks when a person starts to show signs of boisterousness. It might be a step in the right direction. However, it will not provide additional off-street parking area, which essentially is the only way that one can combat the present jam.

Getting back to the original premise, we think this is just another instance in which the 18 year old drinking law is causing trouble. To put it bluntly, the younger drinkers, on the average, do not seem to have the self control to take this drinking privilege and use it in the same degree of moderation as older consumers.

No. We're not saying that all 18 year old drinkers are drunks, nor are we saying that all those over 21 stay sober while drinking. We know it is not so. All we can do is point to the great increase in violations, and in general disturbances which have evolved since the law was changed.

HUD Grants

Shapiro and Community Development Director John Alati of the full funding of the 39 projects that were proposed in the County's grant application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Thirteen Essex municipalities, the largest number ever to participate in the County's Community Development program, will share more than $2.3 million to fund 35 separate projects that include: housing rehabilitation, crime prevention programs, property acquisition for neighborhood and senior citizen centers, and public works improvements.

An additional three-quarter million dollars will go to four innovative County projects: $50,000 to establish Essex County's first Tenant Resource Center, functioning within the new Division of Consumer and Constituent Services, to provide a host of services to Essex County renters. $500,000 to the County's Home Improvement Loan and Grant program that provides low-cost loans and outright grants to eligible private homeowners to finance home improvements and rehabilitation. $64,000 for the Occupational Center for the Handicapped in Orange, the state's largest sheltered workshop providing vocational and occupational training and services to Essex County's handicapped.

$100,000 for a land acquisition for a new outreach center for the handicapped serving the West Essex area, possibly located in the former Synagogue of Suburban Torah Center building on North Livingston Avenue.

Shapiro noted that HUD this year is increasing its Community Development funding to the County by more than $1 million, the fourth consecutive year of growth in the program.

The news of the allotment to Livingston was hailed at Monday's Township Council meeting by Deputy Mayor Crincoli, who has served as liaison between the Council and the Community Development program for the past four years. He pointed out that after failing to get any HUD aid in the first attempt, Livingston received $45,000 for the Fullerton Brook project two years ago, and $30,000 for the Youth Service bureau last year.

The $100,000 grant for flood control in the Wardell Road area is but the start of a project that is estimated to cost over $2 million along Canoe Brook in that area. It is hoped that additional funds for this work will be included in future years. The improvement of this portion of Canoe Brook is part of an overall flood control plan now estimated to cost $21 million over the ensuing years. It was considered possible that matching fund financing might be used in the future with Livingston issuing bonds to cover the local portion of the work.

The $100,000 for the sheltered workshop program is a capital grant to aid the purchase of the former Synagogue of the Suburban Torah Center, which it is hoped will be converted into an extension of the current workshop program. This program, now operating in Orange, provides occupational training for handicapped persons helping them achieve skills which can make them into productive members of society.

The group will appear before the Zoning Board on August 16 seeking the necessary variance to allow the building to be used for this purpose.

Excerpts from the West Essex Tribune of 40 Years Ago

Meanwhile here at home the Livingston Band director Fred

Young announced a concert to be held at Central School. Among its selections would be "Little Sir Echo," currently at the top of the Hit Parade.

Another echo was resounding through Town Hall, the voices of Livingston Avenue residents objecting to a proposed ordinance which would limit the amount of local land zoned for business. Stating that they owned undeveloped land in this area which they hoped to sell for commercial purposes were Charles Dougal, Grace Samuelson, John Tschner and Freeman Harrison. They brought a supporting petition signed by 90 percent of their neighbors. Walter R. Harris and Mrs. A.L. Kaufman spoke in favor of the change.

Livingston's playgrounds were filled with shouting of a more joyful nature during the summer of 1939. Director Wenonah Wahler announced that 485 boys and girls were registered for the fun and games which included kite contests, pet shows, swimming, handicrafts and "instructors' choice."

But not all the kids found their excitement at the peanut hunts. Two boys, 15 and 13, were picked up on West Northfield Road with a stolen automobile wheel which they had removed from Lucille Crank's car parked next to the curb. The time of the crime as reported by Officer Winans was 2:30 a.m.

In addition to her studies, Wertheimer is associated with the New York firm of Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson.

The Livingston Fire Department asks that you be sure every member of the family knows how to get out of every room in the house if normal exits are blocked by fire.

Patricia Gross Weds Scott Gant

Patricia Ellen Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gross of Livingston, exchanged wedding vows on Saturday, July 21, with Scott Baldwin Gant, son of Mrs. Gladys Gant and the late Earl Gant of Bricktown.

Father Michael Sheehan performed the double ring ceremony at St. Philomena's Church. The bride's cousin, Matthew Crann, served as altar boy. It was the bride's parents' 28th wedding anniversary.

Karen Gross, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Frances D'Amico of Livingston and Judy Yocum of Aberdeen, Maryland.

Michael Tenny of Jackson acted as best man. Ushering were William Gross Jr. and John Gross, the bride's brothers.

The bride is a graduate of Washington College in Maryland and is employed by the Becker Company, East Orange, as a technical assistant. The bridegroom attended Montclair State College and is employed by Datapoint Corporation, New York, New York, as a customer service engineer.

After a wedding trip to Quebec City and Montreal, Canada, the couple will reside in Maplewood.

Lynne Fletcher Is Conference Speaker

Lynne Fletcher, a Livingston High School senior, was a guest speaker at the Advanced Leadership Laboratory on July 21. This was a training conference for school board of officers held in Somerset. It was sponsored by the New Jersey School Boards Association and other school board associations and committees.

Fletcher presented the views of teens and the problems facing them. In her speech she emphasized that it is more effective to encourage young people to productive action than to prevent them from doing things less desirable.

The LHS student is the first woman to be elected state governor of the New Jersey Key Club. She had previously served as the state secretary.

Other invited speakers were Joel Jacobson, the New Jersey Commissioner of Education, and John Degan, the New Jersey Attorney General.

Irene Urko Wins Piano Gold Medal

Irene Urko, a gold medal and Schumann gold medal winner in the recent 1979 National Guild of Piano Teachers annual auditions, was awarded medals and a gold embossed certificate for the eighth time.

Urko, a Livingston High School sophomore, has performed in the National auditions for eight years, maintaining superior honors in the Critics Circle. For seven consecutive years, she has performed programs of ten through 13 memorized programs in the classic, romantic, and modern music periods.

She was rated on 32 points of musical phases by Nicholas Burke, adjudicator. For her pianistic skills in performance, she has been awarded the Mozart, Beethoven, and Schumann gold medals. A student of Eleanor D. Ploran, Irvington concert pianist, organist, and teacher, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Urko of Intervale Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Walker of 63 Falcon Road welcomed their second daughter, Tara Leigh, on July 17, in Saint Barnabas Medical Center. Tara, who weighed six pounds, 13 ounces, at birth, joins a sister, Shannon, two. Her mother is the former Gail Gasparine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvio Gasparine of 48 Burnet Hill Road. Mrs. Roy Walker of Red Bank is the paternal grandmother.

Dr. Shabica Will Present Proposal

Dr. A.C. Shabica of Livingston, chairman of the Science Center committee of the Research and Development Council of New Jersey, has been invited to make a presentation of his proposal to Governor Brendan T. Byrne and his cabinet. If the Center is built it will be the only major science and technology center in the tri-state metropolitan area.

Our board has authorized a further broadening of the committee to include people representing a diversity of interest," said Shabica, who is vice president, development and quality control, Ciba-Geigy pharmaceuticals division. "We also intend to establish a separate, non-profit organization under the leadership of the R&D Council.

"Although there are 50 major science centers around the country that are visited by 34 million people," Shabica declared, "we have no such facility in the tri-state area. Ironically enough, New Jersey is a world leader in private research and development."

Son for Svendsen

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Svendsen of 14 Congressional Parkway welcomed their first son, Edward Marinus, on July 12 in Saint Barnabas Medical Center. Edward, who weighed seven pounds, 11 ounces, at birth, joins a sister, Hope Louise, two. His mother is the former Ana Gutierrez Rios of Gijon, Spain.

Recreation Center News

Hillside

Hillside kept their unbeaten kickball record with an exciting 6-5 victory over Collins in extra innings. In the bottom of the 10th, Hillside made a fantastic triple play to hold Collins to their 5 runs. There were many outstanding plays in the game by Steve Valentine, Joe Keegan and Jamie Antonacci. Hillside will present "The Wizard of Oz," to end the summer project. Next Tuesday afternoon, Hillside will go to Harrison to try to keep their unbeaten kickball record. Thursday afternoon will be greaser day, with dancing and costume contest. Many exciting arts and crafts are also planned. On Wednesday there will be a trip to Vernon Valley Fun Park and Friday is Swim Day at Memorial Pool.

Harrison

Last week Harrison held a clown day. The winners for the best costume were Maureen Morgan and Kelly Wilson. One day was pajama day, when everyone came in their pajamas. Kim Lauro had the clown. A walk to Friendly's was held last Thursday. Next week Karen will explain how to make Macrame Flower Pots. It will also be Hollywood week with many games and contests. Tomorrow is Swim Day at Memorial Pool, between 10 and 12.

Monmouth Court

Last Monday, we made fuzzy creatures and started to prepare for the Olympics. Tuesday began intensive preparations for the upcoming Olympics. We also dyed T-shirts and finished up our banners. Thursday was Arts and Crafts with Karen followed by a fantastic pizza party. Friday was movie day. Tonight will be our family barbecue at 6:30 p.m., so bring your family to Monmouth Court. Friday is

Swim Day at Memorial Park.

Burnet Hill

We had played another kickball game, this time against Monmouth Court. We also made Macrame jewelry and rock creatures. The big event was the Pizza Party which was on Thursday afternoon. The winners of the stuffed animal contest last week were: smallest-Melanie Otto and Reginald; most unusual-Jimmy Treat and Uncus; the cutest-Mike Newman and the owl; and largest-Allyson Ubaldi with Christmas. We played another kickball game against Harrison which we won. Tomorrow is Swim Day at Memorial Pool.

Riker Hill

To start off the week, we had a nature scavenger hunt which we all enjoyed. Ann Marie, our drama specialist, is planning a special program for our Riker Hill parents. Most of Tuesday was spent preparing for the Olympics. Even though Wednesday was spent inside, we held a pancake breakfast. Karen came for Arts and Crafts and we made decoupage bottles. To end our fun-filled day, we had a basketball game, boys against girls. The boys won with a final score 16 to 6. We ended the week with home-made caramel apples which were delicious, but a bit messy, and a box fall contest which was won by Theresa Montero.

Collins

Our kickball game with Hillside was won by Hillside. We at Collins would like to congratulate Hillside for a great game. The other part of the week was spent in preparation for our Olympics which was rained out. The highlight of our week was our water carnival. This included a water-balloon fight with the rec leaders on the receiving end of the water.

Paul Milone Earns Princeton Degree

THREE ELDERLY PERSONS went to the hospital as the result of a head-on collision in front of Sunrise Laundry on South Livingston Avenue Tuesday afternoon. Arnold Blum, 76, of East Orange was driving this 1976 Buick when it was struck by a car driven by Alberto Wegener of Caldwell, 60. According to witnesses, Wegener appeared to "black out" and crossed the center line. Both drivers were taken to Saint Barnabas Medical Center by the Livingston First Aid Squad as well as Blum's passenger, his wife, Irma, 75.

In both 1977 and 1978 he was named to the first team All-Ivy soccer team. In 1978 he was named first team All-American by the National Soccer Coaches Association qualifying him to play in the sixth annual Senior bowl held in Orlando, Florida.

Milone was a first round draft choice of the San Diego Sockers of the North American Soccer League and played the 1978 season with that club. He also played professional soccer with the Pittsburgh Spirits of the newly formed Major Indoor Soccer League.

Prior to Princeton University, Milone was graduated from Livingston High School where he played varsity soccer, basketball and baseball. Together with his brother Steve, he was a member of the State Championship soccer team of 1972 and was an All-State selection in 1973.

Grant Variance For Addition

In a brief action on Thursday night, July 19, the Zoning Board of Adjustment granted a variance to allow construction of a laundry room and sundeck on the home of Arthur G. Haas at 451 South Livingston Avenue. Haas pointed out during the hearing that his home was built prior to the present zoning standards. While the proposed addition will violate today's requirements, it will not extend any closer to the side line of his property than the rest of his house.

No neighbors attended the hearing to address the Board, and the application was approved after a short discussion.

Gayle Woodman: First Woman Chaplain At Saint Barnabas Medical Center

Saint Barnabas Medical Center, in conjunction with the Livingston Council of Churches, has hired its first, full time Protestant chaplain. Her name is Gayle Woodman and she is also the first woman chaplain at the hospital.

A tall, blond haired woman, she works out of the cramped office of the pastoral care department. She shares the office with two, full time Catholic chaplains, one, part time Protestant chaplain, one part time rabbi and a secretary.

Rev. Woodman's job is to visit and counsel with all Protestant patients in the hospital. In addition, she is the clergy representative on the oncology (cancer) and burn unit teams. Rev. Woodman has been working full time since June, having worked part time during April and May.

A recent graduate of Drew University's Seminary, Rev. Woodman received a master of divinity degree. While at Drew, she was active in many areas. She worked as a field representative and recruiter for the college's theological and graduate schools and as an assistant to the dean of students, coordinating the orientation program for incoming theological students.

She was coordinator of volunteer services for the campus Chaplain's office and taught swimming as an assistant swimming instructor.

For one and a half years, Rev. Woodman has worked as an assistant to Rev. George Brodley, chaplain of the John E. Rummel's Hospital in Berkeley Heights. There, she works in the geriatric and rehabilitation units of the hospital. "Working at the John E. Rummel's Hospital and working with Rev. Brodley helped me to decide that hospital chaplain ministry was what I wanted," said Rev. Woodman. She continues to work there when not working at Saint Barnabas. "It's important that everyone do some type of volunteer work. If that were to happen, we'd have a much better world," she added.

A number of honors and awards were given to her while she was at Drew, among them were the Morrill Methodist Church Award for Promises of Pastor, the Chatham United Methodist Women's Scholarship (which she received for three years) and was named an outstanding woman of America in 1975. She was also chosen to represent Drew at the United Methodist Women's Assembly held in Louisville, Kentucky in April of 1978.

Rev. Woodman was born and raised on a farm in New Hampshire. "Living on a farm brought me closer to the realities of nature and closer to God," she said. Her parents and younger brother are both pleased and proud of her ministry and always gave her encouragement and support. Nevertheless, it is the former pastor of her home church, Rev. Ann C. Partner, who is credited with having helped her to become interested in the ministry. "She is both a friend and colleague," Woodman said.

Before attending Drew, Rev. Woodman received a bachelor of arts degree in education from the University of New Hampshire and taught school. She also worked as a real estate broker and as a dining room hostess and cashier for a Holiday Inn.

Rev. Woodman is a member of the New Hampshire Conference for the United Methodist Church and is working here under the appointment of the Bishop. She feels that her job also entails working with the families of patients. "They, in some ways more than the patients, need support to help them get through a loved one's major surgery or death," Rev. Woodman plans to speak before area congregations in hopes of making them aware of the pastoral program at Saint Barnabas and to encourage their participation and support. In addition, she hopes to take a clinical pastoral education course at Overlook Hospital in the fall, to work towards her chaplains certification. "I see myself as first, a human being, and secondly as a minister. My job deals with people, which is something that I love to do."

Police Arrest 4 In Gas Theft

A vigilant Livingston police officer who spotted blinking brake lights behind the Carnevale Gulf Service Center on South Livingston Avenue early Saturday morning not only thwarted a gasoline theft but also set in motion the action which resulted in the arrest of all four suspects.

When the officer investigated the suspicious lights, the four young men standing near the car ran through the alley behind Livingston Roller Rink. A second officer, alerted by radio, spotted the four crossing Hobart Gap Road into the woods and notified Millburn police who reported seeing the men cross South Orange Avenue into the East Orange Water Reserve where they were apprehended. Arrested were Anthony Jones of Irvington and three juveniles.

Upon inspection of the area surrounding Carnevale's Gulf, police discovered a gas syphon still hanging from the tank of a pick-up truck owned by the service center. Three jugs stood on the ground nearby. The truck window had been forced open and the CB radio inside had been pried loose.

The alleged gas thieves had abandoned their 1972 Plymouth station wagon near the truck, and inside was a tool used to punch out locks and also a 22 caliber starting pistol. The car is registered to Venerardo Genovai of Irvington. It was towed to Livingston police headquarters.

The fugitives were charged with possession of stolen property and burglar tools, breaking and entering the pick-up truck, possession of a deadly weapon and larceny under $200. They could not post the $1000 bail Jones was sent to the Essex County jail and the three juveniles to the Essex County Youth House in Newark.

Fined For No Cards

Failure to have insurance cards in their possession resulted in fines for several local drivers last Wednesday in Municipal Court. They were Anthony Arjora of 127 Beaufort, $10 and $10 court costs; Vincenzo Matinato of Orange, $10 and $10 court costs plus $15 suspended for delinquent insurance; Carolyn King of North Plainfield, $10 and $10 court costs; Milton Byrd of Newark, $10 and $10 court costs; and David Maron of 25 Shrewsbury Drive, $10 and $10 court costs.

Winless Arsenal surprised Ipswich by holding them to a 2-2, overtime tie. Neal Kussick and Dave Zuber scored for Arsenal while Mike Friedin scored both goals for Ipswich.

On all Time Savings Accounts, dividends are credited on the last business day of each month and may be withdrawn without penalty at any time. For accounts opened after July 1, 1979, FDIC regulations require the following penalties for withdrawal of principal from Time Savings Accounts before maturity. On any account with a maturity of more than 1 year, the penalty is loss of 6 months' interest. On any account with a maturity of one year or less, the penalty is loss of 3 months' interest.

Special 4 Year Certificates

These special high interest certificates may be opened for four years with a minimum deposit of $500. The rate which is guaranteed for the full term is one percentage point below the average yield on 4 year Treasury securities.

This rate changes on the first calendar day of each month, and the rate is announced by the U.S. Treasury Dept. three business days prior to the effective date of the new rate.

Funds deposited in these special certificates are compounded continuously by the Howard to provide the maximum yield allowed by law. FDIC regulations require that the penalty for withdrawal of principal prior to maturity is loss of 6 months' interest.

Special 6 Month Certificates

These are $10,000 minimum, non-negotiable certificates. The Howard pays the highest rate allowed by law. Government regulations prohibit compounding during the term of these special certificates. No partial withdrawals are permitted, and no interest is paid on accounts closed prior to maturity.

Key Sewer Plan
Subject to final approval by the State Environmental Protection Council Monday evening approved plans for a short sewer lateral to run off East Cedar Street on the westerly bank of Canoe Brook.
The line has been requested by Antonio Poto, Filomena Zecca and Joseph Drenzo. It will serve a series of proposed stores on a line with the existing Livingston Mini Mall stores at the corner of East Cedar Street and South Livingston Avenue, the only practical sewer course was through a right of way between the Mini-Mall and the brook to serve the new stores.

Two Steal Car On Third Try
It took three tries for two inept thieves to successfully steal a car last week at the Livingston Mall.
Their plans were altered first when Shirley Wintermote of Sparta and Susan Pasco of Lake Hopatcong spotted one of the Hispanic-looking males in a 1972 Mercedes and another seated in Pasco's car. As the two women approached, the man in Pasco's car jumped out and into the Mercedes which sped to the end of the lot and stopped.
Pasco went into Bambergers to call the police. She later found that her vehicle had been entered through the driver's door and her ignition was lying on the floor.
Soon after police found the Mercedes in another part of the Mall also with a broken ignition. Authorities believed that the two men eventually made their get-away in a 1967 Dodge Dart reported stolen from the Mall lot by owner Jean Rowen of Murray Hill.

LIVINGSTON AMERICAN LITTLE LEAGUE ALL STARS did it again. For the second year in a row, they came up the victors in the District 8 playoffs. Starting next Thursday the Livingston team will compete in Carlstadt in the Sectional playoff series. The field is located on Route 17. Game time is 5:45 p.m. Standing with their baseball trophies are (first row) Steve Valentine, Brian Bushwell, Cris Groome, Cris Peacock, Allison Fordyce, Dave Froling, (second row) District 8 administrator Henry Levee, Paul DeFalco, manager Chuck Fordyce, Danny Richmond, Paul Modugno, League president George Gammond, Mike Somekh, Scott McKay, Ron Davidson and Mike Sorrentino.

Board Attorney Prepares Denial
At its Tuesday night meeting, the Planning Board directed its attorney Peter B. Cooper to prepare a denial resolution, citing the Board's findings and conclusions for denying an application to convert a real estate office into an Italian delicatessen and caterer.
The applicants, Michael and Daniel Gerardo, sought approval to convert the former house, now used as a real estate office, at 588 South Livingston Avenue into a delicatessen and caterer. Plans included a major addition to the building and the building of a house on the adjacent lot facing West Harrison Place.
Among its findings, the Board found that there would not be enough parking for the building and that the major addition to the building would constitute overuse of the property. The application was denied at the July 10 meeting by a 5-1 vote.

Continue Hearing On Kronisch Office
A continuation of a public hearing on plans to build a professional office building at 139 East McClellan Avenue was held Tuesday night at the meeting of the Planning Board.

Livingston attorney Myron W. Kronisch is applying for permission to build a 5,000 square foot office building with a 27 car parking lot in the rear of the property. The land is currently owned by Dr. William Venino, formerly of Livingston.
At the hearing, Leon Wilson, an attorney representing S. Commerato, who resides at 143 East McClellan Avenue, brought up questions about lights and fencing for the property. Wilson asked that the Board grant approval on the application on the conditions that the lights in the parking lot be turned off at 6 p.m. and that the fence, which will surround the parking lot but not the driveway, be extended to the front of the building.
A discussion ensued where Henry J. Nycz, township planning director, stated that the Board cannot ask that the lights be turned off at 6 p.m., but can ask that the lights be turned off at 9 p.m.
The type of fence to be used was also discussed, with Nycz stating that a chain link fence with redwood slats, no lower than four feet and no higher than six feet, can be used.
After a lengthy discussion, Board member Dominic Carrino suggested that the fencing and lighting of the property be resolved between the neighbor and the applicant. Board chairman A. Jay Goldstein then moved that the hearing be continued at the next meeting.

Planning Board Approves Extension
Livingston Manor, Inc. was granted approval by the Planning Board, Tuesday night to extend Alpine Way and to develop seven new lots along the extension.
The property to be developed is the former Alinger land, located between East Northfield Road, East Cedar Street and Alpine Way. The application was approved by all the members of the Board.

To the Editor:

Whose Flim Flam?

Dear Sir:

Why is it that we Americans, regardless of race, color, creed or national origin, who pride ourselves on being so wordily-wise, are such wholesale easy marks for the mass flim-flammers? We, who individually often consider a "sucker" the proper prey for fast talking "slickers," collectively are taken in by the most outrageous "now you see it - not you don't" bean games. For example, everyone in America knows by now that smoking cigarettes leads directly to lung and throat cancer and a lot of other hideous diseases. So, the cigarette manufacturers blanket the country with pictures of a macho man on a horse and a shapely chick leaping out of water. Now you see the Surgeon General's warning - now you don't! Cigarette sales soar and tobacco subsidies continue. The flimflammers earn their fees and the tobacco industry stakes, in the hundreds of millions, are protected. And the great American sucker loses again.

The current example of flimflam on a super colossal scale concerns energy and how best to solve America's power requirements. The stakes in this shell game are in the megabillion dollar magnitude, so it isn't surprising that the staff of flimflammers called in to handle pulling the wool over our eyes have an unlimited budget and operate on a grand scale and use a flamboyant cast of hucksters.

The facts about the "energy crisis" may be listed as follows:

1. American industry and the American life style consume gigantic quantities of electrical power.

2. America used to generate electricity by burning coal, but the economics of oil and the restrictions of air-pollution regulations have resulted in practically all our power facilities being converted to oil - a non-reversible reaction for all practical purposes.

3. Simultaneously, America's coal mining industry shrunk to a fraction of what it was as mines were abandoned and filled with water.

4. And America's mighty freight moving muscle, our railroad system, deprived of coal as a revenue and beset by government regulations, became the 90 pound weakling it is now with roadbeds and rolling stock incapable of moving large quantities of coal much less dealing with any national emergency.

5. While America was shifting its total dependency to oil, the oil companies moved the refineries from America to the turbulent Middle East. The stage was set for an "energy crisis," or rather a whole series of "energy crises."

6. With the refineries under their control the Arabs simply shut the valve and let the oil consumers outbid each other.

7. No matter what the price increase, the records show that the oil companies reap an ever-increasing profit.

With the first impact of the "oil crunch" (the hucksters employed by the oil flimflammers use every word but steal), America turned to evaluate what alternatives it had to paying tribute to the Arab-Oil Company Terrorist Organization. We were presented with the following alternate energy sources:

1. Wind - the only place in these United States where wind power could generate sufficient electricity is within 50 feet of the halls of Congress.

2. Solar Power can generate reliable electrical power only under the cloudless skies of Mars. What happens when we have two weeks of cloudy weather such as we just experienced? If the power poor Israelis, in a truly sunny climate, can't make it a realistic answer, then solar power can only be an expensive toy and a political boondoggle. We need a power source that can pull subway trains under New York City 24 hours a day.

3. Geothermal power could only be a local answer in the proximity of Old Faithful. Power from hot springs is not the answer to turning the electric motors of the industrial complex of Northern New Jersey.

4. Power from tidal waters will never light up Chicago.

5. Power from coal is no longer an immediate answer for America's needs. We have destroyed our coal mines and wrecked our railroads. It will take decades and billions to go back to coal, if the environmentalists will allow the air pollution.

6. The only ready-to-go power answer for all America's future energy requirements is nuclear power. It has been used successfully by the Navy for decades; it is no longer in the developmental stage. Nuclear power is a reality ready to be put to use on a wide scale.

If this is true, then what is all this hollering and marching and shouting about? Good question. And the answer to it should be obvious - if we weren't so prone to flimflam. What would happen, one cannot help but wonder, to the paralyzing death grip the Arab-Oil Company Terrorist Organization has on our throat, if we were able to generate all our electrical power needs from nuclear plants? The answer is, of course, that there would be no more paralyzing death grip and we wouldn't have to pay a mega-billion dollar annual tribute. Our national crude oil production could comfortably supply our automotive needs and our economy would close a mortal wound.

Do you think that it just might be possible that, with megabillions of dollars at stake, the Arab-Oil combine flimflammers put a team of well-known personages together to sell us the very idea that nuclear plants mean the end of the world? They know, every one knows, that America will listen to a Hollywood tramp, of alleycat ethics and ignore the opinion of knowledgeable engineers. Do you think that it just might be possible we dumb Americans are being flimflammed again?

Mowers Dangerous

Dear Mr. Klaber,

After a lucky accident on Saturday afternoon, I feel this letter should be written.

My wife and myself were driving east on Rt. 10 just west of Hillside Avenue. I noticed a man cutting the grass at the west bound curb, as it was warm our windows were fully opened. Just as we were directly opposite, the mower blade hit some large stones. I yelled "duck" to my wife, as I heard the stone hit the car. Fortunately it missed us both, but I found it on the back seat.

The point I'm trying to make is that anyone using a rotary mower should be aware of the force that the blade propels an object through the shoot. Never point it in the direction that a person might be struck.

Squad Answers 788 Calls This Year

The Livingston First Aid Squad answered 788 calls during the first six months of this year. This is a slight increase over the 777 calls answered during the same time period in 1978.

These and other statistics were published in a report issued by the Livingston First Aid Squad. The report covers the first six months of this year.

Of the 788 calls, 341 persons were transported to the hospital on a stretcher, both emergency and non-emergency cases. There were 68 heart attacks during this period, which is a slight decrease from the 75 heart attacks that occurred during the same period last year.

The most dramatic increase in injuries was the number of injuries due to motor vehicle accidents. There were 74 motor vehicle injuries during the first half of 1979 compared to 52 motor vehicle injuries during the same period last year, an increase of more than 33 percent.

The squad answered 52 calls for broken bones, 49 calls for head injuries and 32 calls for back and neck injuries. 27 people were unconscious and were treated by the squad. The squad treated three drug related injuries as well as three intoxicated persons.

There were 17 stroke victims treated by the squad. The squad also treated one person for shock, four persons for convulsions, 12 persons hemorrhaging, 11 persons for seizures and 12 persons for diabetes.

31 persons suffered respiratory problems and 22 persons were treated for abdominal pains. Seven people suffering from mental disorders were also treated by the squad. The squad failed to save the lives of six persons during this period.

The squad answered 432 calls between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. They responded to 268 calls from 4 p.m. to midnight and 88 calls from midnight until 8 a.m.

April was the busiest month for the squad when they answered 160 calls. The squad responded to 132 calls in January, 135 calls in February, 125 calls in March, 129 calls in May and June was their lightest month with 107 calls.

In addition, the senior citizens van operated by the squad handled 579 calls during the first half of this year, compared to 555 calls during the same period in 1978.

Solar Energy... An Answer to Today's Crisis, Discussed at Forum Here

Solar energy as a practical solution to the current energy crisis was the topic of a forum held Thursday night at the home of Ronald Sturtz, 27 Badger Drive. About 40 persons attended the meeting which was arranged by Jim Bildner, Democratic candidate for state assembly for the 25th district.

The panel consisted of three speakers, all of whom are involved in the designing, financing or usage of solar energy systems.

The first speaker was Larry Lindsey, an architect and partner in the Princeton Energy Group. Lindsey spoke about the design of a solar hot water system, also known as thermal-dynamic system. Using the solar panels on the roof of the Sturtz home as an example, Lindsey explained briefly how the system operates. The system at the Sturtz home is an active solar system, which uses a pump to transmit the energy from the solar panels, down into the basement where it heats up the water in the 100 gallon hot water tank.

Another type of thermal-dynamic system is a passive system, which relies on the natural flow of energy to move the energy to the water tank.

Lindsey stated that solar panels facing south are the best net energy gainers. However, panels can also face other directions. There must also be proper insulation behind the solar panels to keep from overheating the system and the home.

Dennis O'Malley, the director of the Department of Alternative Energy of the New Jersey Department of Energy, spoke about available grants and tax credits for homeowners installing solar energy systems. O'Malley explained that in 1977 the Department of Housing and Urban Development provided 1725 $400 grants to assist New Jersey homeowners in installing solar systems in their homes. 1200 grants are still available and must be distributed by September 30 or be returned to HUD.

In addition, the government offers a tax credit of up to 30% of the first $2000 of investment and 20% of the remaining investment to homeowners installing solar systems. This tax credit can be carried from one tax year to the next. Furthermore, anyone installing a solar system within the next 3 1/2 years will not receive an increase in property tax because of the system and will be exempted from the 5% New Jersey state sales tax.

"The average solar system costs $2500. With a grant and an income tax credit, the homeowner can receive almost a 40% discount and the system would cost a little over $1400," O'Malley said.

Both O'Malley and Lindsey did say that the cost of installing a solar system probably will not go down. Most likely, the cost will rise steadily and the best time is to buy now when grants and tax credits are available.

Lou Schindel, the final speaker, is an advocate of solar energy. He is the president of the Maplewood Environmental group and was partly responsible for the "Sun Day" celebration held at Eagle Rock Reservation last year. Schindel explained that the solar system will appreciate in value. He also spoke about ways that the government and others try to exploit potential solar energy uses and how that can be avoided.

During the discussion, Ron Sturtz was asked how his system, which has been operating since December, is working. Sturtz replied that he hasn't had any problems with the system thus far. All he had to pay was for the original investment and he feels that he's saved money because he hasn't had to use the gas back-up system to heat the water very often. "I did it because I believe that solar energy is the wave of the future and I like to pioneer. I know I'm going to save with the way prices are going," Sturtz said.

The meeting concluded with questions from the audience. Bildner then concluded the meeting by stating that he hopes to create a task force to implement a statewide solar energy program, which he hopes will increase use of solar energy in the northern part of the state.

THROUGH THE WOODS AND INTO THE TENNIS COURT. Teofic Skolarski of Irvington failed to stop behind a driver making a left hand turn from South Orange Avenue into Goodhart Drive, glanced off the stopped car, jumped the curb, knocked down a fence, hit several trees and landed on the tennis court belonging to Robert Sanders, 2 Goodhart Drive. The shaken driver of the car attempting to make the turn was Sheila Goldklang of 27 Coventry Road. Neither driver was injured and, fortunately, the tennis court was empty. Andy Wilson Photo

First Aid Squad

conversion of the present First Aid Squad building, owned by the Squad, into office space for Kinsey Associates, a park and recreation consultant firm. There would also be some space in the building for rent to a tenant, with the Kinsey firm taking about 2,000 square feet and another 800 square feet being available for rent.

Stephen and Robert Kinsey, representing the applicants, pointed out that no structural changes are planned in the building, and few changes in the exterior appearance. Several members of the Board expressed concern that recommendations of the township engineer concerning the installation of curbing and drainage facilities were not being followed by Kinsey Associates.

Robert A. Kinsey Sr. told the Board that he plans to retain the overhead doors to the space now used as ambulance bays. He and Stephen Kinsey pointed out that while they did not want to go to the expense of installing curbing for purposes of storm runoff control, they would put in bumper curbs to keep cars from entering East Cedar Street except at driveways.

The parking stalls across the front of the building, which are prohibited under the zoning code, will require a variance from the Zoning Board. Approval of the plans was granted by the Essex County Planning Board, but only with the note that 18 feet will be required along the edge of East Cedar Street for the future widening of the road. When that strip is taken by the County, the five parking stalls across the front of the property will be lost. The application now includes a request for a variance from the parking requirements, since only 13 stalls are now available on the tract, and one of these is reserved for use by handicapped people.

Robert Kinsey testified that he now has a total of ten people working in his present offices, located across Canoe Brook from the First Aid Squad building on the corner of East Cedar Street and South Livingston Avenue. Since the tenant for the rental space is not yet known, there is no way to predict the need for parking space for the remainder of the First Aid Squad building. The Board pointed out that even with Kinsey's ten vehicles when the five stalls along the road are lost there will not be enough parking space for his employees.

Robert Kinsey told the Board that virtually all of his firm's business is with school boards, municipal governments, and similar government entities. As a result, it is very rare that a client goes to Kinsey's building; his employees travel to meet with the clients. Consequently there is little need for additional parking space for visitors to the Kinsey firm.

Consider Drainage

Board member Alan Davenport said that he was familiar with the drainage problems in the area around the First Aid Squad, and cited the recommendations of township engineer Arthur J. Carson concerning the installation of curbing and drains. Robert Kinsey testified that if he did comply with Carson's recommendations it would only channel more storm water into the already overloaded drainage system.

Davenport said that he would like to explore the township engineer's views on this question further. He asked that Carson be invited to the next meeting, or that the engineer submit a more detailed memorandum concerning flood relief for the area.

Another Board member, Marilyn Kussick, said that she was concerned with the need for parking space. She pointed out that a medical practice of some type in the rental space might mean the addition of a doctor, a nurse and a receptionist during office hours, plus the need for parking space for several patients' cars. At the suggestion of Carl Sulzberger the applicants agreed to remove insurance agents and real estate brokers from their list of suggested tenants, limiting it to those which would be permitted by the town in the case of a combined home and office. Sulzberger emphasized that this is not a combined home and office use, and that no kind of office is permitted in this area, which is zoned for one-family homes.

Dr. Kussick also asked the other Board members to consider the question of whether the non-conforming use should be continued at all. The building has served as headquarters for the First Aid Squad since 1957, and Stephen Kinsey testified that although it would be costly it would be possible to convert the structure to a residence which would conform to the neighborhood more closely than an office building.

After a discussion of the requirements for Board member attendance, preparation of transcripts, and voting eligibility, the session was adjourned. If the necessary voting arrangements can be made with those Board members who were absent on Thursday, the hearing will be continued on August 16. If not, the matter will be placed on the agenda for the September 20 meeting.

Resolution of the application will have an effect on the plans for a new First Aid Squad building, since the purchase price for the present building will be used toward the new structure to be built north of the main fire station on South Livingston Avenue. Squad members present at the hearing on Thursday said afterward that they were somewhat concerned when they looked ahead to several months needed to complete the hearing, prepare a resolution, and complete action on the application.

Bad Check Charge

Mary Ann Norton of Chatham was found guilty of passing bad check at Livingston Mall Sears store when she appeared in Municipal Court last Thursday. Judge Martin Brenner fined her $25 and $15 court costs.

Library Scofflaws

in the municipal court under the following conditions:

The mailing of a certified letter with return receipt at least six weeks after the item is overdue, asking for the return of the item and telling the person he is subject to prosecution.

If the borrower is a minor, this letter shall be sent to the minor's parents.

The item must be overdue at least two months.

In forwarding the ordinance to the Council, Manager Harp stated: "While we truly regret the need for this type of legislation, the fact is we have more people abusing library privileges. There is no way we can continue to tolerate the failure of a minority of persons to respect the property and assets of our Public Library. Accordingly, this office most respectfully recommends the adoption of this legislation."

Raymond Simpson, assistant director of the Library, stated that the library authorities had asked for some such measure after long study. Prior to the passage of this measure, the Library has had no teeth in any of their recovery procedures. Except that they could deny a person further use of the library facilities, there was little they could do. As a result, many items were unrecovered or kept inordinately long times.

Each week, Simpson said, approximately 200 overdue notices are mailed out, calling attention to items that are long past due. While these notices usually bring responses, about 40 to 50 letters a month have to be sent to people who have ignored them. Last month, this figure rose to over 75.

The library currently has over 110,000 volumes in the catalogue, as well as 2,000 records and 300 eight millimeter films. The big problem comes when people take out reference materials needed by many, and fail to return them. Also, at times, people will hold on to 7 day books long after they are due. This is unfair to others who are waiting for them.

Simpson noted one other problem. While there are 2,000 records listed as belonging to the library, a recent inventory showed that between 300 and 400 are missing, presumably picked up by people who did not check them out.

American All Stars

District 8 Champs

Livingston American Little League All Stars defeated a tough Belleville National team 6-2 to become District 8 champions for the second consecutive season. Livingston now moves on to the sectional playoffs to be held in Carlstadt. Livingston's first game will be played on August 2.

Livingston jumped out to a two to nothing lead in the first inning when Chris Peacock singled to open the game, advanced to second on a passed ball and scored on Danny Richmond's double off the left field fence. Danny scored when Paul Modugno hit a two-out single to left. Belleville tied the score in its half as Mills opened the game with a double to left and Barrello followed with an infield hit and both scored on Davis' smash to right.

The score remained 2-2 until the sixth inning though both teams threatened. Livingston had baserunners in every inning but one as Danny Friedman, Steve Valentine and Chris Peacock all had singles while Danny Richmond collected his second double. Belleville threatened twice but Chris Peacock and Chris Groome combined to cut down Kotchuski at the plate when he tried to score on a ground ball. Danny Friedman saved two runs when, with two out and the bases loaded, he made a shoe top catch of Mallory's bid for a hit.

In the sixth inning, Danny Richmond opened with a walk and stole second. Chris Groome singled to right and drove in Danny with what proved to be the winning run. Danny Friedman followed with a single and then Scott McKay put the game on ice with a home run over the center field fence.

Ronny Davidson pitched all the way for the winners and kept the Belleville hitters off balance all game, while allowing just six hits and two walks.

Policemen Not Guilty; Others Fined In Counter Charge Case

In an unusual case which was heard in South Orange municipal court, two members of the Livingston police department were found not guilty of assault, trespass, and malicious damage, and two Livingston residents were found guilty of assault and interfering with the police. The case was referred to an out of town court although the incidents took place in Livingston, so that there would be no question of an impartial trial.

Found guilty of interfering with a police officer were Ronald Velella, age 20, and his father, John, of 239 West Mt. Pleasant Avenue. Ronald was also found guilty of assault on an officer. Mrs. Rose Velella was found not guilty of interfering with an officer.

Officers Edward O. Zielke

and John Ferguson were both found not guilty of charges of assault, and trespass, and Zielke (since promoted to sergeant) was also found not guilty of malicious damage to the Velella residence.

The charges arose out of an incident on June 24. Officer Zielke, on routine patrol, spotted a youthful girl sitting in a red pickup truck parked on Winans Road, drinking out of a beer can. Stopping to check, he noted that there were five other cans of beer on the floor of the truck. He asked the girl her age, and she admitted to being 16. He then told her she was under arrest for illegal consumption and possession of alcoholic beverages.

At this point, Ronald Velella, then aged 19, who owned the truck, came up, and told the officer that he should leave the girl alone. He was advised that the girl was under arrest, and was warned not to interfere. Zielke stated in testimony that Ronald shoved him and threatened to hit him if he persisted, whereupon Zielke placed him under arrest as well. Ronald suddenly dashed off toward the rear door of his home, which is on the corner of Winans Road.

Zielke ran after Ronald, catching him as he reached the back door. Meanwhile he was joined by three other backup officers. The back screen door was flung open and damaged. Hearing the noise, John Velella came to the door, asked what was going on, and when informed that his son was under arrest he grabbed the boy and pulled him inside, ordering the police off his property. He claimed they would need a warrant for the arrest.

Zielke informed him that no warrant was necessary, and warned that if he continued to block the police he would be charged with interfering with a police officer in the performance of his duty. Mrs. Velella reportedly attempted to close the back door on the officers, hitting Zielke's foot. The door banged open, and also suffered some damage. The police entered the kitchen, and prevailed upon the Vellellas to come to headquarters where formal charges could be presented by both sides. The girl in question was turned over to her mother, and information was sent to county juvenile authorities for whatever action they would take.

At headquarters the Vellellas charged Zielke and Ferguson as noted, and were themselves charged. Judge Martin Brenner and municipal prosecutor Amos Gern both agreed that because of their constant connection with the police officers it might be questioned whether the court hearing, if held in local court, would be completely impartial. It was therefore requested that Judge A. Herbert D'Amico, municipal magistrate of South Orange, hear the case in South Orange. The trial was held over the past two Mondays.

Ronald was fined $200 and $50 costs on two charges, and his father was fined $25 with no costs. Mrs. Velella was found not guilty as were the two police officers.

Livingston Second In Legion Play; 1st Playoff Game At Home

Livingston concluded its regular American Legion baseball season play by defeating Irvington by the score of 5-4 at Livingston. The record for the season was 10 wins, four losses and one tie, good enough for second place.

The playoffs started Wednesday, July 25, with Livingston playing at home. Livingston will also play at home on Friday, July 27. Both games starting at 5:30 p.m.

Irvington jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning. Another run was cut off at the plate on a fine throw by Bill Giuliano to Marty Witt who applied the tag. Livingston came back with a run in the bottom half of the first inning when Troy Brydon singled and advanced to second on an error by the centerfielder. Marty Witt then followed with a single and Troy Brydon scored on another single by Scott Parsons. Irvington then scored three runs in their half of the second inning to go ahead by the score of 4-1. Scott Vassil came on in relief of John McClain with one out in the second inning and a man on third and he remained there as Vassil got the final two outs of the inning. Scott Vassil then proceeded to pitch the rest of the game in excellent style as he held Irvington to but three hits and allowed but one runner to reach second base. This was Vassil's first win of the season.

Livingston tied the ball game in the fourth inning by scoring three runs. Bill Giuliano walked and advanced to second on a ground out by Mike Genovese. Mike Citron then doubled to score Giuliano. Citron advanced to third on a single by Stan Yagiello. Mike Citron scored on a pitcher's balk and SLOPES OF GR-ASPEN Grass skiing is a new warm weather sport. Demonstrating the technique, on the slopes of Riker Hill Park in Livingston, are Basil Smillios and Glen Dikowski, both Livingston residents. Riker Hill Park is maintained by the Essex County Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs and is located off Beaufort Avenue. The park is a site of a visitor's center and a geological museum.

Yagiello advanced to second. Troy Brydon walked and then Marty Witt filed to right field with Stan Yagiello advancing to third after the catch. The catcher from Irvington tried to catch Brydon off first base and thereby left home plate uncovered and Stan Yagiello exercised some alert base running and scored the tying run.

Livingston scored what proved to be the winning run when Scott Parsons tripled to right centerfield and he scored when John Mudugno hit a sharp single to right center.

Irvington then threatened in the top of the seventh inning. The first batter to face Vassil grounded out but the next two batters singled, putting runners on first and second. The following batter then hit what appeared to be a base hit between third and shortstop but Stan Yagiello went to his right and made a fantastic back hand stop of the ball and threw to Troy Brydon at third to head off the lead runner for the second out of the inning. Scott Vassil then put the game out of Irvington's reach when he got the third out of the inning, a ground out to the first baseman.

Scott Parsons was the big hitter for Livingston with three hits in three times at bat.

Livingston's American Legion baseball team earlier in the week met East Orange, in a game played at Martens Stadium, East Orange, and Livingston and Gary McDonough emerged the victor by the score of 1-0. Gary McDonough and Don Humphrey hooked up in a superb mound duel with McDonough facing but 23 batters and Humphrey 25. Gary McDonough limited East Orange to four hits and Livingston got six hits off Humphrey. Gary McDonough's win was his second of the season. Gary McDonough had the ball game in hand throughout with no runner reaching third base and only one getting as far as second. Livingston scored the only run of the ball game when Troy Brydon led off with a walk in the first inning and Marty Witt followed with a double, executing the hit and run to perfection. Gary Gill then stepped to the plate and scored Troy Brydon with a sacrifice fly to center field. Both ball clubs provided impeccable defense.

Marty Witt and Bill Giuliano led the hitting attack for Livingston getting two hits apiece.

Victory number 9 on the season was earned when Livingston defeated Bloomfield by the score of 7-6 in a ball game that hung in the balance to the final out. Scott Parsons got his third victory for the year with this win. Parsons came through in the clutch time and again throughout the game, reaching back for that little extra when it was needed. He struck out seven Bloomfield batters, and limited them to but six hits.

From the outset it appeared that Livingston was going to rout Bloomfield by scoring four runs in the first inning. Troy Brydon walked, Marty Witt singled and Brydon scored on a single by Gary Gill. Scott Parsons then drove in Witt and Gill with a single. Parsons scored when Mike Genovese delivered a single. The score then went to 5-0 when Marty Witt hit one out of the park for a home run to continue his torrid hitting streak. Bloomfield then scored a run in the bottom half of the second inning on a home run by Sal Festa. Bloomfield then made the score 5-3 by scoring two runs in the fourth inning and forged ahead by scoring three runs in the fifth inning on a three run homer by Vic Fucci. Scott Parsons avoided further damage in that inning by inducing Mike Ashton to hit into a double play which went from Parsons to home plate, Marty Witt, who then turned in a heads up play by tripping the runner at third who was advancing from second.

Livingston went into the last inning, the seventh, down by one run, 6-5. John Mudugno walked and Bill Giuliano followed suit, putting runners on first and second with one out. George Alpert then stepped to the plate and worked the count to three balls and two strikes and then stroked a double to left center field, scoring Mudugno and Giuliano to put Livingston in the lead 7-6. Scott Parsons then went to work in the bottom of the seventh and got the final three outs, striking out two of the three batters that faced him.

Livingston went on the road to Belleville in quest of its 10th win of the season but suffered its fourth loss by losing a heart breaking 1-0 ball game. Steve Slotnick pitched eight innings of superb ball, limiting Belleville to but four hits and certainly deserved a better fate. The ball game wasn't decided until the eighth inning when Mike Nicosia hit a home run, there being two outs at the time. Both teams played excellent baseball in a kind of a game where neither team deserved the loss.

Merit Changes Smoking.

'Enriched Flavor' cigarette sparks whole new taste era in low tar smoking.

Not too long ago, smokers believed that if a cigarette had less tar, it had less taste too. Low tar cigarettes simply didn't taste very good.

Then along came MERIT and a whole new taste idea called 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. And in three short years, smoking changed:

1. No other new cigarette in the last 20 years has attracted so many smokers as quickly as MERIT!
2. MERIT has swept past over 50 other brands in record time.
3. MERIT is continuing to attract high tar smokers—the most taste-conscious smokers of all!

It's clear: MERIT taste is changing attitudes toward low tar smoking.

WED 50 YEARS. Euge and Anna Neu of Tamarac Lakes North in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary July 20. The Neus, Livingston residents for 40 years, are former owners of Neu Interiors on South Livingston Avenue. The two were guests of honor at a party in the Livingston Holiday Inn given by their children, Helen Weber of Livingston, Betty Cleveland of Princeton and Marion Bybee of California. Guests, including their seven grandchildren, came from Florida, Virginia and New Jersey.

Traversos Mark Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. H. Traverso of 4 Bunyan Drive celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Sunday, July 15. They renewed their wedding vows in a special mass celebrated by Mrs. Traverso's cousin, Father Joseph Rucinski, who married the couple. Father N. Lemke S.J., chaplain at New York University, was concelebrant. Following the ceremony a cocktail hour and dinner was held at L'Affaire in Mountside.

Deadline Nears For Tax Appeals

The deadline for a Livingston real property taxpayer to file an appeal with the county board of taxation from the valuation placed on his property by the local assessor for the 1979 tax year is August 15, reports the New Jersey Taxpayers Association. Tax bills for the last two quarters of the 1979 calendar year showing the 1979 assessed value of land and buildings should now be in the hands of all taxpayers.

Under present law, the county boards of taxation must complete their appeals within three months after the last day for filing (November 15). A bill (Assembly No. 1858) passed the Assembly on July 19 and awaiting action by the Senate, would extend the appeal deadline to six months (February) and require all judgements to be in writing.

If a taxpayer is dissatisfied with the judgement of the county tax board, he may seek review of the board's judgement by filing a complaint with the Tax Court within 45 days of the service of the judgement of the county board. The new full-time Tax Court replaced the part-time Division of Tax Appeals, effective July 1. At the time the taxpayer files the complaint with either the tax board or Tax Court all taxes then due and payable must be paid.

One of several new laws relating to the Tax Court allows a taxpayer who owns property with an assessed valuation subject to appeal in excess of $750,000 to apply to the county board of taxation to have the appeal transferred to the Tax Court for initial hearing.

A Small Claims Division within the Tax Court has jurisdiction over any complaints involving controversy of up to $2,000 in taxes. A taxpayer may appear on his own behalf in the informal hearings before the Small Claims Division or be represented or accompanied by certain specified professionals.

Grace Lutheran Church was the setting Sunday, July 22, for the marriage of Caryl Ann Placko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Placko of 182 Grove Terrace, to Malcolm Dean Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Allison of Union. Pastor John Goerss officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Patricia Caterers.

The bride wore a white chiffon gown designed with a Queen Anne neckline, Venise lace bodice, bishop sleeves and a cathedral train. Her finger-tip length was edged with seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of silk gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Patty Duffy of Livingston, gowned in peach tulle, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Carol Danesi and Donna Placko, the bride's cousin, both of Livingston. The two wore apricot tulle gowns, and all held apricot silk tea roses. Meg Romeo, the bridegroom's niece, was flower girl.

Steven Eldridge of Pleasantville acted as best man. Ushers were John Rutledge of Union and Ken Placko of Livingston, the bride's brother.

Postpone Hearing
On House Addition

A Zoning Board hearing on plans for an addition to the home of Roberta Zucker at 10 Trafalgar Drive has been postponed until the August 16 meeting of the Board. At this week's meeting a letter from Zucker was read into the record, asking for the postponement.

The application seeks variances to allow the addition of a garage and workshop area to the house. The proposed addition would violate the sideyard and total sideyard setback requirements of the township zoning code.

Peter Needs Help
From Camp Fund

To Peter his life is much like other children's, but his parents have a very different outlook. They are trying their best to make their son's life happy and more or less normal but it is hard because they are both deaf.

Mr. S. has been working a night shift, and to make ends meet, Mrs. S. was able to get a part-time afternoon job. Everything was going along pretty well until Mr. S. was told he would be changed to the day shift for at least the month of July. The lower pay will be hard enough on this family, but it means there will be no one to look after Pete if Mrs. S. is to continue her much needed job.

This is where the West Essex Camp Fund can step in. Pete's school guidance worker has asked that Pete attend day camp for four weeks. However, without money kids like Pete cannot be helped by the Camp Fund. Checks may be sent to the West Essex Camp Fund, 60 South Fullerton Avenue, Montclair.

Total received this week is $2,448, previously acknowledged $4,990. Grand total now is $7,433.

Summer Heat Invites Bacteria To Grow In Food; So Take Care

With the picnic and outdoor cooking season here, the Livingston Health Department again offers suggestions to avoid possible food poisoning and other illnesses or hazards associated with outdoor eating and cooking.

First one must not assume that meat and poultry are free of disease-causing organisms. Such organisms, such as salmonella bacteria, are invisible to the naked eye. The general assumption should be that unless the meat is thoroughly cooked all the way through, there is a possibility of organisms surviving that will cause illness, said Michael Patz, chief sanitarian.

Also well done meats are safer than those which are eaten rare. There have also been instances, though not numerous, in which people who thought they were eating pure beef hamburger have gotten trichinosis because the beef has some pork in it.

Recent research indicated a new hazard with respect to meats that are charcoal broiled, and this is the production of benzopyrene which is a carcinogen, Patz noted.

Fat from the meat dripping on to the coals results in benzopyrene being formed which is carried off in the smoke and is then deposited on the meat.

To minimize this hazard it is suggested that the following precautions be taken: use lean meat, wrap the meat in foil, be sure the coals are red hot and avoid fat dripping on to the coals.

The area of preparation of food should be clean and after an area has been used in the cleaning of poultry or meat, it should be thoroughly cleaned before it is used in the preparation of other foods. This helps to prevent cross contamination. For example, if a chicken should contain salmonella organisms, next food, say a salad, prepared on the same spot where the chicken has been, could be contaminated with salmonella if the area had not been thoroughly cleaned between the two preparations. Thorough cooking of the chicken would destroy the salmonella in the chicken but not in the salad, said Patz.

Persons preparing and handling foods should be in good health and there should be no open sores on their hands or face. Hands should be washed frequently.

Potentially hazardous foods are those such as chicken salad, shrimp salad, potato salad and similar foods consisting in whole or in part of milk or milk products, eggs, meats, fish or shell. Such foods should be made from chilled ingredients and stored for refrigeration in shallow pans and not allowed to remain at room or outside temperature for any extended period of time.

Foods that are served hot should be kept hot — 140° Fahrenheit or above — until they are served. Bacteria thrive and multiply in in-between temperatures.

If a family is having an outdoor barbecue and a sudden shower comes up, there may be a thought of moving the barbecue under roof, such as on a porch or in a garage. Don't do it unless the ventilation is excellent. Carbon monoxide from the burning coals can build up with unfortunate consequences. In addition, there is the hazard of fire with an open fire in a relatively closed-in area.

Also do not use insecticides near food and people and keep children well away from hot grills, Patz warned.

Debates At Bates

Jeff Cohen of 28 Tanglewood Drive is participating in the summer debate program for secondary school students at Bates College in Maine.

An Editorial Report:

Check Rules on Mopeds and Bikes: Save Gasoline, But Do It Safely

Several readers have called the West Essex Tribune during the gasoline shortage to inquire about rules for operating bicycles and mopeds and to offer suggestions for improved safety in their use. With the assistance of the Livingston Police Department the Tribune has compiled the following information:

Laws governing the use of mopeds have changed several times in recent years as their use became more popular. Earlier regulations defined a moped as a motor vehicle, but now they are described as "motorized bicycles" to distinguish them from motorcycles and minibikes.

Although 15 and 16 year olds are permitted to use mopeds, they must obtain a special moped operator's license from the state. For people 17 years of age and older, an automobile driver's license is sufficient for operating a moped.

Insurance is required by the state, but because of the difficulty of preserving an insurance identification card such as that issued for cars, no card is required to be carried on the moped.

Although mopeds are considered useful for getting from home to the swimming pool or the library and for similar errands, their use as long-distance transportation is severely limited. Mopeds may not be operated on interstate highways or any highway with a speed limit above 50 miles an hour. In addition, mopeds are banned from any road with a concrete or grass divider, such as East Northfield Road.

Mopeds, like bicycles, are to be operated at the right margin of the road, and not in traffic lanes. They must follow all the same regulations as bicycles with regard to necessary equipment and operation.

Sales of motorcycles and mopeds are increasing, presumably because of their fuel economy, but the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration reports that injuries and fatalities are rising even faster than sales. Last year about 4,500 people died in accidents involving motorcycles and mopeds, an increase of nearly ten percent over 1977. With the recent gasoline crisis, the sales of mopeds are increasing much more rapidly than the gradual growth of earlier years, but national figures on accidents are not yet available for this period.

With regard to bicycles, state law requires that any bike used at night must have a white light on the front and a red light — not only a reflector — on the rear. A bell of similar signal is also required by the state.

The regulations also provide that a person using a bicycle must follow all the same traffic rules as a car driver. These include stopping at stop signs and traffic lights, for example, but exclude items such as speed limits which do not apply to bicycles.

Several Tribune readers have telephoned to urge drivers of cars to have greater regard for bicyclists. With increasing use of bicycles and mopeds, they said, the number of injuries and deaths will increase if all parties involved are not more careful.

HAPPY BELATED BIRTHDAY NANCY BERKOW

July 22nd Love, "MIAMI BRUCE"

POLICE AUXILIARIES of Livingston and East Hanover met Sunday, July 1, for one of their regular pistol tournaments. Checking the scores is Livingston captain, Ted Vassil. The volunteers take these opportunities to test their proficiency in sidearms training and also to get to know each other better. Vassil explained that in case of an emergency on the border of the two towns, rapport between the East Hanover Reserves and the Livingston Auxiliary force would be of utmost importance.

Susan Hamberger Is Mrs. Ulanowski

Susan Hamberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hamberger of Highland Drive, was married to Gary Ulanowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Ulanowski of Roselle Park, on Saturday, July 14, in Saint Philomena's Church. Father Robert Lorenzo officiated at the nuptial mass. Denise Manley, soloist, was accompanied by organist Lucille De Tufo. A reception followed at the Rock Spring Inn.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white, high neckline, Italian chiffon gown with a chapel length train. The bodice and long bishop sleeves were trimmed with Venise lace and seed pearls. She wore a matching Venise lace chapel length mantilla and carried a nosegay of daisies and baby's breath.

Mrs. Judy Schultz, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Arlene Ostanek was the bridesmaid. Both attendants wore light blue qiana gowns with blue chiffon capes. They carried nosegays of daisies and baby's breath.

Paul Jurk served as the best man and John Hamberger Jr., brother of the bride, was the usher. Ken Schultz III, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

The bride is a graduate of Livingston High School and Kean College. She is currently employed as a special education teacher in Montclair.

Mr. Ulanowski is a graduate of Roselle Park High School and attended Du Cret School of Arts. He is a self employed contractor.

After a honeymoon trip to Hawaii, the couple will reside in Roselle Park.

Murphy Didn't Fly Very Far!

The origin of Murphy, the blue jay who adopted the Williams family at 28 Concord Drive has been discovered. It seems he didn't fly very far — just a short way up the block.

The editor received the following letter this Tuesday which explained the mystery:

Dear Sir,
I was pleased to see our blue jay in the town paper! I had raised him since he was found fallen out of the nest and too young to fly. He was banded at the Environmental Education Center in Roseland on July 9 and released outside our house on the 12th. My family and I have raised blue jays, starlings and a robin over the last three years, but "Murphy" is the first of our orphans to achieve notoriety in the press.

Valerie Risano

5 Concord Drive Livingston
While we had not expected that his original home was that close, the editor was not surprised at the local origin of Murphy. Blue jays do not migrate, staying in the same area year 'round. That being the case, it was highly unlikely that Murphy could have come any great distance.

As long time nature lovers (we've also raised a blue jay, baby squirrels, wild rabbit babies, etc.) we heartily applaud the work of the Risanos.

Rec Department Plans Fishing Trip

The Department of Recreation and Parks will sponsor a bus trip to Verona Park, August 7, to participate in the Essex County Park Commission Fishing Program.

The bus will leave Memorial Park at 9:30 a.m. Youngsters will fish between 10 a.m. and noon. Fishing rods, bait and instruction will be provided by the Essex County Park Commission. Staff from the Turtle Back Zoo will hold a program at the Park with live animals. Youngsters will return to Memorial Park by 2 p.m.

The program is open to Livingston youngsters between 6 and 10 years old. Registration forms may be picked up at the Recreation Centers, located at the elementary schools. The trip is free, but is limited to 45 youngsters on a first come, first served basis.

Country Grocer Has New Manager

The Country Grocer, located in Livingston, on the Route 10 Traffic Circle, has announced that it is reopening under new management with Douglas Levy as operating Vice President.

The Country Grocer is a full service health food supermarket, covering eight thousand square feet, and featuring a complete line of organically raised fruits and vegetables, meat, cheeses and bakery items. Its fully stocked shelves contain products with no pesticides, additives or dyes.

Douglas Levy has been a natural foods chef since 1972 and their deli reflects this with its array of natural foods specialties, including salads, quiches, vegetable pies and a unique lasagna, one of the biggest sellers in its brisk lunch business. His philosophy includes using only quality ingredients and efficient methods of cost control to keep prices reasonable.

Levy emphasizes the importance of having a qualified floor staff, ready to help "those customers who would like to become more knowledgeable about health food products." According to Levy, "we are constantly reevaluating the line of products that the store carries. This is a newly expanding field with more and more consumers interested in obtaining products with pesticides, additives or harmful ingredients. We want to be sure that what we carry is consistently the best available."

The Country Grocer also features an extensively stocked Vitamin and Natural Cosmetic Dept. with a consultant on the premises. A wide range of salt free products are also in stock.

Prospects for the future include publishing a Country Grocer Natural Foods Recipe

Book as well as a line of frozen natural foods.

The concept for the Country Grocer originated with David Pleva, a West Orange attorney with a long standing interest in natural foods, who is now President of the corporation. "I've always wanted to have a place where everything available in the health food market could be found under one roof, and I think we've done that here," he stated.

Trenton Comments

By Jane Burgio

The latest results from the state's minimum basic skills test can only be viewed as deeply disappointing, not only because of the continuing and troubling decline in the score but because the learning gap between suburban and urban schools remains as wide as ever.

The Commissioner of Education termed the results "extremely discouraging" while the president of the State Board of Education called them "shocking."

The only bright spot in the test scores was found in the elementary schools where slight increases were recorded in both reading and mathematics levels in the third grade.

These were, however, offset and overshadowed by declines in all other areas, including sharp drops of five per cent in both reading and math scores in the 11th grade, as well as declines in reading scores in both the sixth and ninth grades. For the second consecutive year, scores in sixth grade mathematics were the lowest recorded in any test.

The results revealed an incredibly sharp disparity, in some cases as much as 50 per cent, between suburban and urban schools, a trend which has remained virtually unchanged since 1972 when uniform testing began.

It is, of course, somewhat perilous to draw rigid, fixed conclusions from the statistical data, but one assumption can reasonably be made; the need for intensified and expanded programs of remedial education.

It is, sadly, a fact that students are moving through a public school system from one grade to the next with less than the total knowledge required. The end result is that a great many youngsters graduate from high school ill-prepared for either higher education or for entrance into a labor market which is placing increased emphasis on educational level.

The network of New Jersey state colleges, for instance, has found it necessary to institute expanded remedial programs for entering freshmen to instill in them the knowledge in basic skills which they properly should have received in secondary schools.

The test scores may have an effect, also, on legislation currently pending in the Assembly to implement a standardized test for high school students to qualify for a diploma. Given the low test scores of the 11th grade students in the most recent results, it could be argued that a great many of them would be denied a diploma because they would be unable to pass the test without immediate and substantial remedial aid.

Supporters of the diploma standards legislation contend that many of the diplomas which are awarded are essentially meaningless because the recipient has an inadequate background in the basic skills, a deficiency which will surely have an adverse effect later.

These latest scores should be a cause for concern by the Legislature and the Administration as well, since we are now into the fourth year of operation of the "thorough and efficient" education law, a year in which more than $3 billion will be spent at all levels of government for the support of public education.

If nothing else, our concern should take the form of an official request that the Commissioner of Education adhere to the statutory mandate to submit a report on the operation of the education law to the Legislature by 1980. A similar mandate calls for the State Board of Education to submit its assessment of the law to the Legislature by September of this year.

There is legislation currently pending in the Legislature to delay the Commissioner's report until 1982 and the State Board report until December of this year, proposals which, in my judgment, are designed to avoid facing up to a clear departmental responsibility.

The continuing decline in test scores and the learning gap between suburban and urban districts should be addressed as soon as possible, not three years away.

Board Changes Meeting Date

Action to shift the date of the November meeting of the Zoning Board of Adjustment was taken this week, moving the session from November 15 to November 29. Acting Board chairman Joel Siegel said that the change was made because of a conflict with a state meeting on proposed changes in land use legislation. Many of the Board members had hoped to be able to attend the meeting.
